New Advertisaments.

THE ELECTION, YESTERDAY.-The elec tion passed off very quietly in this city, yesterday. In the morning the weather was threatening, and later in the day a drizzling rain began to fall, rendering the streets and sidewalks very disagreeable.

A table given elsewhere shows a considerable falling off in the vote cast in this city as compared with that polled in August. The returns were received at the headquarters of the Grant and Wilson Club (Washington Hall) where a large and enthusiastic crowd assembled to hear the cases before the police court, yesterday morning. John McGarrell, whose trial for selling liquor on Sunday was continu fied that they had not purchased, nor had any spirituous liquors been given them,
